My Mother's Mother was the daughter of James Taylor Flannigan, a descendant of William Flannigan and Nancy Oglesby. I have additional information on Flannigans, most obtained from my mother. I, too would like to know who this Nancy Flannigan, wife of Jacob Lane is, so that I can correct this misinformation in the records listed below, originally obtained from the files of family researcher Birchie Johnson's papers in June 1984.
Thanks for any help! Donna Mariner, Delray Beach, Florida

Mrs. Vivian H. Jordan
1530 Hawthorne St.
Houston, TX 77006

Dear Mrs. Jordan:

Thank you so much for taking the time to write in regard to my query concerning Jane Flanagan of Hawkins Co., TN. At this time, my information concerning Jane is very slim. I do not know what her maiden name is; she married Joseph Skelton in Hawkins Co., TN 30 Dec. 1866. She was his 2nd wife. From deed records in Collin Co., Texas (where she died), I learned that she had been previously married and had 2 sons, John Flanagan who was residing in Collin Co. in 1904 and Harve Flanagan who died before that date and had 4 children. In the 1870 Hawkins Co., census, she is shown as Sophia J. In census records the children are shown as being born in Virginia and Tennessee. I feel like there is a connection between your Philip Flannagan as I find him residing next to Alex Shelton (Father of Joseph) in the 1860 Hawkins Co. census.

Perhaps you know which Flannagan Sophia Jane was married to prior to Joseph Skelton. If so, I would certainly appreciate your sharing the information. I have gleaned quite a bit of the Skelton data from Hawkins Co. and would be glad to share if it helps you in any way.

Again, thank you for your letter.

Sincerely,

Linda B. Allie

removed to Bibb Furnace, Alabama, in 1881. At this place he occupied a similar position for one year, and then the same position at Bass Furnace, Alabama, for two years. He then went to Shelby Iron Works, Alabama, where he secured large ore contracts. While at this place he married, in August, 1885, Tennie Gurley, of Knoxville, who was born in that city in 1860. At the end of two years he removed to Knoxville and opened his present business. His stable building is one of the largest and most complete in the State. It is a two-story brick, fronting 150 feet on Reservoir Street and 200 feet deep, is stocked with fine horses and elegant rigs. Mr. Fizer is a young man of thorough business worth and sterling character, and is one of the representative young business men of Knoxville.

B. P. Flenniken, farmer and mechanic, was born in Knox County, Tenn., October 11, 1830, and while still quite young, began earning his own living. He went to Middle Tennessee, where he learned brick-making and the masonry trade, and has followed this all his life in connection with farming. In March, 1859, Miss Malissa Ann Tipton daughter of William C. Tipton, became his wife. She was born in Knox County, Tenn., October 1, 1837, and two children were born to her marriage, viz.: William B. who lived but a short time and John Howell, a manly little fellow, the pride of his fond parents and the delight of the household, who died after a short stay of three years. Mrs. Flenniken has been an invalid for eight years. Both Mr. and Mrs. Flenniken are worthy and consistent members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Mr. Flenniken has a good farm of 170 acres of land in District No. 13, of Knox County. He recently purchased a nice homestead near Knoxville but on the opposite side of the Tennessee River, and here he expects to pass the remainder of his days. He also owns two houses and lots in Knoxville.

E. H. Flenniken, a native of Knox County, Tenn., was born in 1832, and lived on a farm until twenty years of age, after which he learned the brick-mason's trade and followed that until 1861, when he returned to agricultural pursuits. This occupation he followed for three years, after which he resumed his trade in connection with brick manufacturing in Knoxville, and continued this for twenty-seven years. He retired from business in 1881, and has since devoted his time to looking after the interests of his farm and town property. He was formerly president of the Kingston Pike Company, and is at present a stockholder and director in the same. In 1862 he married Miss Mary Adaline French, also a native of Knox County. His great-grandfather, Wallace Flenniken, located within four miles of the present site of Knoxville, and a house that he built here, and in which he reared part of his family, is still standing near the Maryville dirt road. He resided in the house until his death October 11, 1828. The grandfather of our subject, Wallace Flenniken, was reared here and served in the war of 1812. Samuel Flenniken, father of our subject, was born in Knox County, near the old Flenniken farm mentioned above, and followed the carpenter's trade in connection with farming, until his death in 1877. He married Elizabeth Howell, a native of Knox County, and a family of eight children was reared, four of whom are still living: Our subject, two brothers and a sister. Mr. Flenniken is a Mason, and he and family are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

W. B. Ford, circuit court clerk, was born in Knox County in 1851, and is the son of James P. and Susan (Haynes) Ford, natives of Virginia, who came to this county about 1810 and 1825 respectively, and were here married. The mother died in 1876, and the father June 8, 1887. The father was a successful tiller of the soil, and a much respected citizen. Our subject was one of twelve children (nine of whom are living) born to his parents. He received a good education at Mossy Creek College and at the State University, leaving the former institution in 1876. He then followed the teacher's profession until 1879, at which date he went in the United States revenue service as storekeeper and gauger until 1882, after which he was elected to his present position. In 1873 he was united in marriage to Orlena Henderson, a native of Knox County. Mr. Ford is a member of the I. O. O. F., and the Missionary Baptist Church. His grandfather, Joseph Ford, was a native of Virginia, and settled in the Fourteenth District of Knox County. The Ford family are all Republicans, the father and grandfather formerly being Whigs.

J. W. Fowler, a farmer of the Sixth District, was born April 28, 1817, in Knox County, where he has since resided. He is one of twelve children born to John and Elizabeth (Dorsey) Fowler, both of whom were born and reared in Franklin County, N. C. They came to Tennessee in 1816, settled in the district where their son now resides, and here passed the remainder of their days. Samuel Fowler, grandfather of our subject, was a soldier under Gen. Washington, and participated in the battle in which Gen. Braddock was killed. He was reared in Virginia, and his father was a native born Englishman. His wife's maiden name was Fanny Lawson; she had two brothers who were captains in the Revolutionary war, one in the colonial and the other in the British Army, and both were killed. Our subject never attended school six months in his life, but acquired his education by his own efforts while at home. He lived with and provided for his father until the latter's death. When twenty-

Boone Chosen to Blaze Trail — Gateway to the West

After years of wandering over rugged mountain trails, hunting in the backwoods and helping to repel Indian raids, Boone was chosen by Colonel Richard Henderson in 1775 to help in the establishment of a settlement and fort at the mouth of Otter Creek on the Kentucky River. The signing of the Sycamore Shoals Treaty and securing the "path deed" including much of Carter's Valley, cleared a right-of-way from Watauga to the Kentucky territory. Boone knew most of the Cherokee chiefs and he was familiar with the mountainous region.

Boone Leaves Long Island with Road Cutters To Blaze a Path to Kentucky

Boone began the awesome task of blazing a path to Kentucky. He gathered a crew of road cutters at Long Island, "thirty armed and mounted axmen" and promised each of them a tract of land for their services. Boone was to get a "bounty of 2000 acres." The trailblazers left Long Island in March 1775 with their destination 200 miles away.

Some of the roadcutters in that trailblazing party were eight men from Rutherford County: Captain William Tweety, leader, Samuel Coburn, James Bridges, Thomas Johnson, John Hart, William Hicks, James Peeke, and a negro servant. Felix Walker went along for "adventure." Others were Boone's brother Squire, his son-in-law William Hays, Long Hunter Michael Stoner, Benjamin Cutbirth, Captain David Gass, Captain William Bush, Colonel Richard Callaway and a negro woman cook.

Boone's route from Long Island, at the end of the Great Road down the Holston, led directly to Moccasin Gap, the gateway to the mountainous area of southwest Virginia. He went up Little Moccasin Creek valley in a low divide and over to Troublesome Creek. Wandering down Troublesome almost due west, he crossed Clinch River where Speer's Ferry was later established. On the west side of the Clinch, he went up the river to a ford on Stock Creek, following its meanderings for several miles to the great physical freak known as Natural Tunnel. Turning left at this hill, he crossed over Horton's Summit and went down into the valley of the North Fork of the Clinch to Little Flat Lick.

Boone and his men stopped at a site identified as the Duffield Schoolhouse and continued from there over Powell Mountain at Kane's Gap and into a valley near the head of Wallins Creek, where Walden and his hunters had traveled years before.

They continued on to where Stickleyville was later built and crossed over Wallins Ridge to Powell River, to Glade Spring, now Jonesville. The Cumberland Mountains were just ahead and about twenty miles further they came to Martin's Station, now Rose Hill. Here they found Captain Joseph Martin rebuilding the settlement he had been driven from by the hostile Cherokee in 1769. Now in 1775 he was beginning again.

After Cumberland Gap, the trail lead through canebrakes in the Yellow Creek basin, down the creek for twelve miles to Cumberland River, crossing the ford there. They followed the trail to Big Flat Lick, where Boone left the Indian trail and turned to the left on the hunter's route he had followed in 1769. They crossed Stinking Creek, Little and Big Richland Creeks, then Lynn Camp Creek, and on to Raccoon Spring where Boone had trapped a raccoon earlier.

Northward they traveled across Laurel River and down Hazel Patch Creek then north to Rockcastle River. The roadcutters came to Big Hill where they saw the clover fields of Kentucky. They left the mountain wilderness behind them and followed a buffalo trace through cane and reed and camped in a forest about three miles south of the present city of Richmond, Kentucky.

The weary roadcutters were attacked by a band of Shawnees as they slept the night of March 24, when they were within fifteen miles of their goal. Men scattered in the woodland. Captain Tweety was shot through both knees. His bulldog tried to save him but was tomahawked, and Tweety died a day later. Walker was wounded and Negro Sam was shot. Boone was delayed several days caring for the wounded and burying the dead, before moving on to the Transylvania Settlement. It was "just as he remembered it," from previous explorations. At-long last the "Long Hunter" had reached his goal.

> The Kentucky River rolled peacefully westward through a bower of elms and sycamores. On the south bank a level valley with plentiful springs provided ample room for a town. Boone and his men immediately set to work to build a stockade for Henderson and his colonizers when they came.[1]

"Daniel Boone was Tennessee's first road builder." Boone's Wilderness Trail was the principal highway for all travel into Tennessee and the country beyond—in many places following the exact route of the Great Indian Warpath.[2]

> After 1785, an alternative and somewhat easier route from Long Island to Cumberland Gap was also used. This route continued down the Holston Valley to Bean's Station, turned north across Clinch Mountain, and approached Cumberland Gap from the South. (This alternate route followed Old Stage Road through Church Hill.)

The modern route from Cumberland Gap to Corbin is known as Federal 25-E, and from Corbin to Richmond and Lexington as Federal Highway No. 25. The left prong from Mount Vernon to Crab Orchard, Danville, Bardstown, and Louisville is designated as Kentucky Highway No. 150.[3]

Information gleaned from letters from Natalie F.Ponder

(letter of 19/sep/83)

I had found Fountain Flanagan,9yrs. living with Francis Coley in the 1870 census of Wythe,VA. Natalie states in 1880 he is livin g with his Aunt Mary J. Coley 51 yrs.,,,he is 21 yrs. She suggests that Jeremiah Flanagan, that is in Wythe Co.,VA may be the father of Philip.

(from letter of 15 Aug 1984)

Her brother Dick, who was then on a walker from a stroke, was remembering that his father, GEorge,(my mother's brother), had told him that the family (i.e. Emory's family, had come to the town where Jesse James had just died,which was ca 1892, in St. Joseph's,MO. She noted that Atchison,Mo. was about 22 miles from St. Joe and was putting forth the theory that maybe my Mother,Nora, was born in Atchison city and not County!! Since I have only my memory of my Mother saying Atchison County,Mo as her birth place....maybe she didn't know either!

She is also theorizing that William Washington F. came with Emory and (I know thatJames Foy Flanagan..Emory's big brother had lived in Fairfax, Atchison Co., Mo and Emory had been close by) She says that in reading the pension of W.W. that it comes out that he was not in VA for 15 years and thus she is thinking maybe he was in MO. With the 1890 census being gone, he has 20 years to be anywhere. Maybe the tax records could nail this down???

in a letter of 24 Oct 1983 she had stated that she had found a grandson of Austin (brother to W.W.) and his name was Hugh. In a letter of 11 Nov 1984, she states that Hugh Flanagan's 2nd wife, Mabel had answered. He was suffering from cancer of the lungs and in the hospital at this time with pneumonia. He was 75 yrs old. Mabel send this information; Hugh b 17 May 1909 to Leftrich Flanagan, son of Austin. Hugh had a son by his first marriage, Hugh,jr. b 11 July 1930. Leftrich m Julia Ada Gilmar

Flane??cne??, Whiteall 60 acres -valued 2- - Tax 6
" , Ambrose 165-2- -16-10
" , James 100-2- -10
Fountain, Aaron ?44- -6-208-36

(wasn't clear at all as to what the other columns had as headings The 2nd seemed to be value per acre; the 3rd ??valuation; 4th was Tax, as best as I could read it) I copied the surname 'Fountain down because one of my grt grdfathers' children was named 'Fountain'.

There were different divisions on the film, with the same year noted and they used the word 'alterations'., which I took to be either changes or additions because the Flanagans were not listed .

1783,84,85,86, no Flanagans listed altho Aaron Fontain was listed 1784/85.

1787 Whiteall Flannagan 60-2/9-8-5- -2-6
Ambrose Flanagan 165-2/9-22-13-9-6-10
James Flanagan 100-2/9-13-15- -4-

1788 All 3 listed except Ambrose had 165 ac and 200 ac

1789 Whittle Flannagan 60 ac + 200
Ambrose 165&200
James 100

Dear Vivian,

Thanks for writing. My information for the Flanagan's came from, "The History and Genealogy of Peter Montague of Nansomond & Lancaster Counties, Virginia, and his Descendants 1621-1894" by George William Montague, and published by the Press of Carpenter and Morehouse of Amherst, Massachusetts. Copies may be ordered directly from my homepage.

I would be grateful for any additional information which you could send to me. You may view my entire family history file of 8,000 names directly from my homepage. Just click on my family tree. You can also print reports directly from my homepage.

Sincerely,

Skiles F. Montague

Dear Mr. Chandronnet:

I see so few queries on the surname FLANAGAN that I am compelled to write.

At this point in time, I do not know of any Flanagans of mine that were in NY but then who knows??

Your Flanagans camE into the US pretty late. I'm looking for an Irishman, Philip FLANAGAN that was b in NC ca 1805. He m in Russell Co., VA in 1830 to Elizabeth MCLAUGHLIN.

From then on they are in Wythe and Smythe Cos., VA.

If in your research you have come upon a Philip...sorta unusual, I would appreciate you letting me know.

Enclosed is a stamp for your trouble.

Sincerely,

18 Feb 1997

Dear Emily:

The enclosed letter has been around. I put it in the wrong envelope and sent it to Arkansas!! The bewildered recipient sent it back to me and it was in the accumulated mail that was here for me after I got back from Salt Lake City. I had rushed to get a few letters off and that is what happens when you rush.

This letter you sent was too recent. I sure appreciate your thoughtfulness in sending it to me for my DAR project. They try to preserve old records, obituries from newspapers during the time when death records weren't kept by the State; Bible records that give names and dates of children that maybe isn't recorded anywhere else, because the time period is before the laws that stated the City, and State agencies had to keep these records. Again my thanks. I hope the young man returned from Desert Storm is good shape.

My Salt Lake City trip was not productive when it came to the Flanagans. Guess we are going to have to put a little booklet together on just what we know and hope that somewhere 'out there', someone will help us?

While in SLC, I had a nasty fall in the bathroom. A towel rack came off the wall as I was pulling a towel off...as I was stepping out of the tub. It threw me off balance and down I went on my right forearm. Fractured the shoulder, but all in all I was terribly lucky. I slammed down onto that tile floor but managed to avoid hitting the floor with my face. Instead I had my hand between me and the floor and just split the skin above the lip.

I'm doing pretty good now but it sure slowed me down!!

I'll get this letter of yours in the right envelope this time!

Sincerely,

Vivian R. Jordan

Step 9 compiled, for each class in each State, the numbers of entries of family heads identified as representatives of the distinctive Irish names, deriving from a total of 451,120 heads of families indexed in the 12 American records the following numbers: Leinster 567, Munster 841, Ulster 1,482, Connaught 378, general Irish 2,158; total, 5,426. The Rhode Island record invariably ranked lowest in number of entries per class, showing but 14 persons for the general list and only from 2 to 5 for any other list. Except for the Connaught list, Pennsylvania was at the other extreme, showing 481 for the general names, 105 for the Leinster, 168 for the Munster, and 571 for the Ulster. The Connaught list was best represented in North Carolina where it had 91 entries, or as many as in Maryland (46) and Pennsylvania (45) together.

Table 38 shows the representation of the classified names in each State and in the whole area of record.

IRISH SETTLERS IN AMERICA

A Consolidation of Articles from The Journal of the American Irish Historical Society firmly convinced of this, as to be highly amused at the suggestion that such people as the Irish were in the Colony prior to the opening of the nineteenth century!

Historians tells us that "the Irish did not begin to emigrate to this country until long after the Revolutionary War," and some claim that none came to America "until the building of the Erie Canal," or about the year 1820, and that they were mainly of the laboring class!

That the following lists of Irish landed proprietors in Virginia are incomplete, is proven by many instances. For example, in the description of a grant in Westmoreland County, dated October 7, 1716, to John and Christopher Butler, the boundary line on one side of the tract is stated in the record[4] to be "the land of Gerald O'Neal," and "the land of Teague O'Longan" was one of the boundary lines of a tract granted to James Byard in the same County on May 26, 1712. In the description of a grant in Stafford County to John Kelly, on September 27, 1704, the patent[5] states that it was "bounded on a tract of land given to George Brent by Thomas O'Donnell and land of Francis Hunt." And in a patent for lands on Greenlawn River in Princess Ann County recorded in the name of Patrick Flanagan[6] on June 16, 1714, the description of the grant shows that he was already possessed of lands adjoining this tract. Yet, when examining the patent books of these Counties, I could find no entries covering grants of land to Gerald O'Neal, Teague O'Longan or Thomas O,Donnell, nor, in the case of Patrick Flanagan, prior to the year 1714.

Many such instances as these can be pointed out, as showing that the appended list is not at all complete. But, though it is only a partial list of the Irish landowners, it furnishes some of the proof that hitherto has been lacking, and it serves as an illustration of the class of evidence that is available in support of the claim, that the Irish were among the pioneer settlers in this country. As already pointed out, it is only by the production of evidence of this character that we can "make better known the Irish Chapter in American History." We will never get anywhere by merely asserting these premises in the manner of after-estate of Stephen Vandick; in 1753 and 1754 he was witness to several wills,[89] and the Court appointed him to appraise the property of the following persons, all of whom died intestate in Salem County:

William Test	September 22, 1752
Isaac Hudson	————, 1753
Joseph Anderson	February 7, 1754
Joseph Ware	May 3, 1754
Joseph Hall	July 12, 1755
John Moore	December 7, 1755
Ann Hall	March 27, 1756
Ephraim Worthington	January 12, 1759

Dennis McCarthy was a witness to the will of "Matthias Lane of Middletown, Monmouth County," on June 27, 1729, and Daniel McCarthy was one of those listed as indebted to the estate of the deceased;[90] James and Elizabeth McCarthy witnessed the will of "Jan Aldert Roosa of Manissink, Sussex County," on August 10, 1756,[91] and Matthew McCarthy, Oliver Carty, Matthew Farrell and Patrick Campble were mentioned in the will of "Burgess Hall of Bordentown, Burlington County," dated August 7, 1749.[92]

The name Flanagan, under various spellings, occurs frequently in New Jersey colonial records. "The land of Patrick Flaninghan" bounded the property of "John Hugg of Gloucester County," as stated in his will[93] dated April 7, 1722; Owen Flanagan was mentioned in an account of the executors of the will of "Malachi Davis of Salem County"[94] dated August 14, 1736, and he again appears in a similar account rendered by the administrators of the estate of "Peter Encloss of Penn's Neck, Salem County,"[95] on March 4, 1746. George Flanagan and Sarah Jennings were married in Gloucester County on December 9, 1736; as "George Flaningan" he made a return to the Court of the valuation of the estate of "William Gibson of Deptford, Gloucester County," on September 19, 1750, and "George Flanningan" made similar returns of the property of five other decedents all residents of Greenwich, between 1753 and 1759. Samuel, son of George and Sarah Flanagan, married Hannah Woolson on October 15, 1768, and under date of February 9, 1776, there is a record of a commission issued to Samuel Flanagan as Lieutenant of the Third Battalion of Gloucester County troops, and later he became Major of the First Battalion of Militia and Assistant Quartermaster for Gloucester County.

In parish registers of Burlington, Salem and Gloucester Counties, between 1728 and 1783, there are records of the marriages of Ann, Amy, Elizabeth, Jane, Mary, Patience, Sarah, Priscilla, John, and Thomas Flanagan.[96] A Patrick Flanagan married Mary Thompson in Hunterdon County on July 13, 1773, and another Patrick Flanagan married Sarah Chew in Gloucester County on August 27, 1762. Sometime before 1765 the latter removed to Blackwood, Camden County, where he attended the Presbyterian, the only church then in the town, and it is interesting to note the statement of a local historical writer that Patrick Flanagan was "a Scotch-Irishman!"[97]

While the baptismal name, Patrick, was not uncommon among the Highland Scotch a century or more ago, it has always been more popular among Irish families. There is no scarcity in New Jersey's early records of the patrician name of Ireland's Patron Saint, and a separate article on the "Irish Paddies" in New Jersey would fill many pages of this volume. They appear in the rosters of the soldiers who fought in the Colonial and Revolutionary wars, in the tax returns, in the probate and administration records and there is a large number of men bearing the prenomen, Patrick, in the marriage and baptismal registers.

In the will of "Patrick Kinnan of Freehold, Yeoman," dated May 14, 1709, he divided his lands in Burlington County among his sons, John, Joseph and William, and daughters, Anna and Margaret, and Patrick Finley was one of the witnesses.[98] The will of Patrick Donahu (also recorded Donoho) dated March 6

IRISH SETTLERS IN ORANGE COUNTY, NEW YORK THE WALSH FAMILIES

By MICHAEL J. O'BRIEN

Irish families located in the territory along the west bank of the Hudson River. I made references to some of these people, who settled in Ulster and Albany Counties, in the 1927 issue of the JOURNAL of the Society, showing that the Irish began to come there as early as 1690 and many Irish names are mentioned in the County records all through the eighteenth century. Irish people also came to Orange County, and the rolls of the troops raised there for the French-English war, 1755-1763, furnish evidence as to their settlement in that part of the Province of New York. Their names are on record at the office of the Secretary of State, and copies of the rolls were published by the New York Historical Society, but since in many instances they are included with the men from adjoining Counties, all of the Orange County men cannot be identified. However, the following soldiers recruited for the colonial wars are recorded as from Orange County. Those marked with an asterisk are shown in the records as natives of Ireland.

May 21, 1763. "Captain Daniel Maccarthy, Master of the ship Sally from Kinsale in Ireland, upon Examination declares that he left said place the 23rd. March and this day arrived at Nantasket Road," etc. The mate of the vessel died on the voyage and the captain was compelled to certify that he had destroyed his clothing and effects before his passengers would be allowed to land.

May 21, 1764. "William Clouston, Master of the Brigantine Hound, appeared and reported that he has been from Cork in Ireland 34 days."

November 16, 1768. The Surgeon's Mate of the Robert appeared and reported the arrival of the ship from Cork in Ireland and the condition of his passengers.

Port Arrivals—Immigrants.

Under this head a large number of Irish names appear in the Town Books of Boston, beginning with the year 1762 and down to 1769. There is no other information regarding these immigrants, except that, in some instances, they came in ships from Irish ports and in many cases their occupations are given as farmers, artisans, mariners, laborers or servants.

This tract of land of 150 acres was considered to contain 140 acres when bought by James Flanagan, August 26, 1827, at a public sale, from Guthrie Morris, sheriff of Fluvanna County, for $11.90, subject to the interest of James Pleasants (Flu. Co., DB 9, 1826-1830, pp. 236-7). Commissioners were appointed by the Court to divide the property between James Pleasants and James Flanagan (jr). The former received 76 acres and the latter 83 acres according to a survey and report of county surveyor and commissioners. This tract of land was sold by James Flanagan Jr., and his wife, Mary (Bowles Johnson), 24 September 1827 as 82 acres for which they received one hundred dollars (Flu. Co., DB 9, 1826-1830, p. 238).

"HISTORY OF SMYTH CO., VA."

Marion, county seat of Smyth Co.,Va. Smyth formed 1831, from Wythe Co. To the east of Smyth and Washington Co. on S. W. Clinch Mts. divide it from Russell & Tayewell counties on W. and N. W. and anther mountain spur divides it from Grayson on S. E.

After Braddock's Defeat July 9, 1755, Va. frontier was exposed to bands of marauders. Many unprotected settlers were killed. The list of participants in the War of 1812 and the Mexican War is very sparse for the population of Smythe was small.

During Civil War, the saltworks in Smyth County were the object of many raids into Wythe and Smyth Counties.

General James S. Greever b. Smyth Co. Sept. 9, 1837, son of Col H. A. and Rachel Holmes (Scott) Greever. Father b. Washington Co., Va. Oct. 30, 1806. Died Smyth Co. May 23, 1883. Mother b. in what is now Smyth County Mar. 12, 1812. Died Smythe County Nov. 4, 1872.

INTRODUCTION

Since the 1800 Census of Virginia was destroyed, the Personal Property Tax Lists have taken on increased value. A study of these lists compared to the 1810 Census shows that most of the heads of households listed in the census are also listed in the tax lists. This is due to the fact that any male over the age of sixteen years was required to pay a tithable (poll) tax. It means that most males were listed even though they had no taxable property. In many cases more persons were included in the tax lists than in the census! This is especially true of young men who may be in the tax list because they owned their own horse--but they would not qualify as head of a household.

The original plans for this book did not include abstracts of deeds. They have been included to help establish places of residence of the taxpayers. This seemed necessary since in 1800 Wythe County had been divided into two separate tax districts. At first it appeared that those families in List A were in the portion which became Tazewell County later in the same year. It was soon evident, however, that this was not the division line. Much effort has been made since this discovery to ascertain the boundaries of the two districts.

The unindexed order books of Wythe and Tazewell Counties were researched. In the Wythe County Order Book, September 11, 1799, it is recorded,"Ordered that James Newell, Gent, and Hezekiah Harman be appointed Commissioners of Taxable Property for the year 1800 and that the bounds of the 35th Regiment designate the district of the 1st, and the 100th Regiment, of the last. This is very helpful--if one knows the boundaries of the 35th and 100th Regiments! I didn't.

A study of the military districts and divisions was undertaken. In Hening's Statutes At Large, Vol. 13, page 343, October 1792 session, it states: "That the commanding officers of regiments . . . shall meet at their respective courthouses on some day in the month of March or April next, to . . . divide their respective counties into districts for the purpose of forming the regiments, battalions, and companies, by this act established; which districts so laid off shall be designated by certain lines and bounds to be established by them and recorded by the clerks of the courts-martial respectively, herein-after to be appointed."

A quick check of the minutes of the March and April meetings of the Wythe County court disclosed . . . that the order books between June of 1790 and September of 1795 have been lost!

I did not give up. Perhaps some records are still available which will give the information concerning these boundaries. Until these are found a study of the available records has made it possible to establish a pattern of residences which indicate that List "A" included the western portion of what is now Wythe County, all of what is now Smyth County, and probably all the territory in what is now Wyoming, Tazewell, McDowell, Mercer, and Bland Counties. This leaves only the eastern portion of Wythe and the western part of Pulaski County in List "B". This might seem to be disportionate, but it must be realized that the lists were probably meant to contain about the same number of individuals--rather than cover the same amount of territory. It is doubtful that even one family lived within the bounds of what is now Wyoming County, and the population of the other counties embraced in List "A" was very sparse. It is therefore, feasible that this division was used.

The original manuscript from which this booklet was transcribed listed the names of the taxpayers alphabetically, or at least all persons whose surname started with the same letter being listed together. The date that the individuals gave in there tax lists was indicated, however. Since it is obvious that those persons who gave in their lists on the same days would have been living in the same locality, the list has been rearranged, grouping persons according to the dates that they declared their taxable property. For the most part, it appears that the taxcollector went from house to house, but the April 25th list, and perhaps some of the others which are quite long, should be used with caution--he may have set up an office and these individuals came to him. This would allow them to be living at some distance from one another.

THE ANCESTRY OF WYTHE COUNTY

Wythe County was created in 1789--but people had been living on the land that fell within the boundaries of this county for as long as fifty years prior to this date. Where, then, are the records pertaining to these people before it became Wythe County? Below is a sketch showing the various counties in which this same property might have been located back as far as it was inhabited by white man. After checking the records of Wythe County, go to the records of these other counties for the dates specified.

This tract of land of 150 acres was considered to contain 140 acres when bought by James Flanagan, August 26, 1827, at a public sale, from Guthrie Morris, sheriff of Fluvanna County, for $11.90, subject to the interest of James Pleasants (Flu. Co., DB 9, 1826-1830, pp. 236-7). Commissioners were appointed by the Court to divide the property between James Pleasants and James Flanagan (jr). The former received 76 acres and the latter 83 acres according to a survey and report of county surveyor and commissioners. This tract of land was sold by James Flanagan Jr., and his wife, Mary (Bowles Johnson), 24 September 1827 as 82 acres for which they received one hundred dollars (Flu. Co., DB 9, 1826-1830, p. 238).

FLANAGAN

The Flanagans were from Fluvanna County. Captain Madison Flanagan (born 11-18-1821) was the first of that family to reside in Cumberland and was one of the first of the family to drop the second "N"in the name. He was the son of Captain William Flannagan (born 2-4-1788 died 1-14-1835) and Frances Payne (born 2-18-1791 died 12-14-1873). Madison Flanagan married Elizabeth Ann Catherine Montague (born 7-26-1821 died 3-27-1891) daughter of Captain William Montague of "Cedar Plains" in 1844.

During the Gold Rush in California Captain Flanagan went around Cape Horn in a sailing vessel in charge of Commodore Stockton's Expedition. In 1858 he purchased Walton's Mill and operated it as Flanagan's Mill until 1893 when he sold it to his son-in-law Philip J. Trice. He also managed a dry goods store near the mill which remains in the family.

Capt. Madison Flanagan and Elizabeth Ann Montague Flanagan

Captain Flanagan was a constant reader and a leader in his community. He was Justice of the Peace and a member of the County Board of Supervisors. He was Chairman of the Board of Supervisors when the county floated a bond issue to purchase stock in the Farmville and Powhatan Railroad. He was opposed to the issue and refused to sign the bond of the county until ordered by the court to sign the bond which he did, adding after his name "under duress."

Politically he was a whig before the Civil War and a Republican after it. He was a Mason and a steward in the Methodist Church. Captain and Mrs. Flanagan had six children: James M. (born 2-16-1845), Virginia E. (born 5-7-1847), William M. (born 4-8-1849), Robert N. (born 12-17-1854), Martha Jane (born 7-12-1857), and Codrington D. (born 5-26-1862).

James Montague Flanagan ran the store at Flanagan's Mill and was Commissioner of Revenue of Cumberland County. He married Sarah Alice Shepard in 1867 and they had six children: William P. (born 4-17-1870), Mary Virginia (born 12-20-1872), Madison, Jr. (born 8-24-1875), John L. (born 3-27-1879), Catherine Elizabeth (born 4-19-1881), James Montague, Jr. (born 11-27-1886) and Robert Stockton (born 5-3-1891).

Virginia Elizabeth Flanagan married Philip J. Trice and their children are listed elsewhere in this volume.

William Madison Flanagan read law under William B. Pettet in Palmyra and settled in Powhatan in 1872 where he served as Sheriff, as Commonwealth's Attourney and as State Senator. In 1881 he married Kate Stuart Johnson and they had ten children: E. Latane, William M., Jr., Robert M., Clifford J., Paul R., Phillip M., John Percy, Lillian O., Louis and Samuel. The nine boys formed a baseball team and for a number of years played an annual game with the Gillums of Louisa County. William M. Flanagan was a Republican in an overwhelmingly Democratic County who won election to high office because of the affection and high esteem with which his fellow citizens held him. He was only fifty when he was fatally wounded by a political opponent in the vestibule of the Powhatan County Courthouse July 3, 1899.

Robert Nelson Flanagan moved to Charlottesville. He married Dora Carroll and they had five children, Lizzie Carroll, Robert Carson, Charles Montague, Mattie and Roberta Walker who married Dr. Kay Redd of Hanover County.

Martha Jane "Mattie" Flanagan married Orin Driscoll and resided at Flanagan's Mill. They had three children: T. Latane, Sarah and Olivia. T. Latane Driscoll practiced medicine in Richmond and returned to Cumberland, bought and restored the old Brown house at Trice's Lake which he called "Folly Farm".

Codrington Daniel Flanagan married Signora Jordan Pace and moved to Louisa County. They had three children: Travis, Alma, and Signora Mable.

Robert S. Flanagan inherited the store and farm of his father. He married Kathleen Davis of Cumberland and they had three sons: Robert S. Jr. (born 10-19-1922), James M. (born 4-12-1924), and William M. (born 9-1-1925). Robert S., Jr. married Mary Bowles and their children are Shannon and Patrick. After a career in the U. S. Air Force, Robert S. Flanagan, Jr. returned to Cumberland and lives on the hill overlooking the old mill. James M. Flanagan married Betty Jo Campbell and their daughters are Joann and Maureen. He was with the C & O Railway and now lives in Concord, Tennessee. William Flanagan married Marjory Carter and their children are Betty and Janet. He is now married to Ruby Belle Carter, sister of Marjory, and lives on the old Flanagan property near Lakeside Village (Trice's Lake). Robert S. Flanagan, Jr.

RED HILL

Located south of Route 22 on the west side of Route 15 near the waters of Hudson's and Bunch's Creeks, Red Hill has the distinction of having remained in the same family since the original 18th-century land grant. The house stands on a portion of the 400 acres of land which King George II granted to James Flanagan in 1747. James had received other land grants in the area, and he does not appear to have lived on this 400-acre tract. He married Serena Whittle, daughter of Frances and Sarah Whittle; and when he died in 1752, he left his estate to his wife for life. After Serena's death the property was divided among their three sons, Ambrose, James, and Whittle, each of whom received 133 1/3 acres of the 400-acre land grant.

Whittle and his wife, Judith Flanagan, evidently made their home and raised a large family at Red Hill, on the 133 1/3-acre portion of his inheritance. In 1823 Whittle deeded 100 acres of his home place to three of his daughters, Susanna, Ann ("Nancy") H., and Elizabeth Flanagan; and in 1829 he and Judith deeded the remainder of the 133 1/3 acres, including Red Hill, to Elizabeth and Ann.

In 1830 Elizabeth Flanagan married Ambrose F. Bellamy, and in 1835 Ann married Benjamin W. Bellamy. Ann apparently died without issue, and Elizabeth eventually acquired sole possession of Red Hill. She resided there for many years, and in 1873, after her husband's death, she deeded the property to their daughter, Julia, who was to provide a home for her there in her old age. Julia had married Lewis Anderson Walker in 1859, and in 1911 she deeded the old house to their daughter, Ida Julia Walker, who had married Thomas Jefferson Barton in 1905. In 1964 Ida conveyed Red Hill to two of her children, Ruby Elizabeth Barton and Graham Lee Barton, who married Catherine ("Katie") May Wills. Ruby and Graham, along with their niece, Barbara Jean Barton Ward, daughter of Frederick Anderson and Mary Katherine Hoffman Barton, still own the old home today.

Red Hill is a well-preserved, story-and-a-half frame dwelling constructed over a partially raised brick basement. It has a gabled roof with three dormer windows, massive, free-standing, brick end chimneys, a small, four-columned front portico, and six-over-six windows on the first floor.
